ALEXANDRIA:

SATURDAY MORNING. MAY 29, 1858.

We are in receipt of a letter from our young townsman, R. R. Fowle, esq., dated April 3rd, written at Camp on Rio San Pedro, New Mexico. The writer is Acting Commissioner and Quartermaster of the El Paso and Fort Yuma Wagon Road Commission. We make an extract:-"You are aware that Gabriel Wharton and Peyton Hume are attached to our commission. Peyton has been from us now three months, superintending the conetraction of one division of our road. He will return in the course of a fortnight. The portion of the road which he has charge of as Assistant Engineer, lies between the Pimas Villages, on the Gila River, and Fort Yuma, on the Colorado. The highest compliments have been bestowed on the work, and of course on his management, by all who have passed over it; and I am sure it is justly deserved. Wharton left us to lay out some work behind our advance party. Both are well. The New Orleans Picayune speaks in high terms of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which recently held it sessions in New Orleans. It says that not only intellectual power, but a spirit of conservatism admirably blended with that of progress, characterised the men who guided its deliberations. It was worthy of note that every thought, every sentiment uttered, was eminently national. The leading men in the body, though they did not on all occasions obtrude themselves upon public notice, were those who formed links between the present and past generations.

[COMMUNICATED. The County Election. The result of the County Election will be, no doubt, bailed as a Democratic triumph;

the two Democrats elected were not run as Democratic candidates but as Independents. ctavo PIANOS. These, with the stock in saw several Democrats vote for candidates who were not Democrate, and several Whigs or Americans vote for Democrats: and am most of the Democrats. So that there was splitting tickets all round-and party lines were not strictly drawn. Mr. Sinclair, the American numinated candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, and Mr. Duffey, the American nominated candidate for Commissioner of the Revenue, were elected-and Mr. Sangster as Sheriff, and Mr. Berry as Clerk of the County Court, both Demecrats in politics, but both running without party nominations, and as independents, were elected. If the Democrate prevailed for two of the offices, the American candidates succeed ed in two others. It is admitted that party politics bad nothing to do with the election of County Constables. This, I believe, is a fair representation of the case. Many of the voters cast their votes for individuals, itrespective of all party considerations. As PIANOS tuned and regulated by T. H. SPIER, for general politics, this county is as much Anti-Democratic as it ever was, and the foture will show this, whenever real political Washington, my 25-5t Penn'a. Avenue. issues shall arise.
